

JUDICIARY LEARNING GRANT PROGRAMME

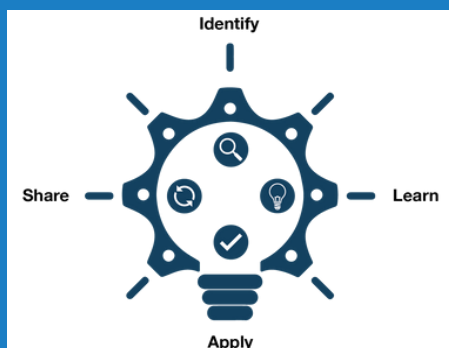

ABOUT

The Judiciary learning grant programme empowers European judiciaries to build and implement a tailor-made project based on a self-identified training need.

Applicants are encouraged to submit innovative projects to enhance cooperation with their European counterparts.

Through this programme, judges, prosecutors, court & prosecution staff and judicial trainers can study in another EU Member State an issue of their choice and use the outcome of their field research in their daily practice.

EXAMPLE

A German judge used an EJTN judicial learning grant to set up a five-day study visit at the Drug Treatment Court in Ghent (Belgium) and study how this specific court operates in practice. She attended court sessions and visited treatment centres and prisons.

Her project aimed to analyse how drug treatment courts function in a civil law system and how they could be implemented in Germany.

The results of her project were published in law journals.
